LET'S STRAIGHTEN THE RECORDS

When you read the letter to the editor on page four, of this issue, you will find our good lawyer friend, Mr. Donald Finn has gently raked this writer over the coals. This makes me think it is time we straighten out the records, not only for the benefit of Mr. Finn, but also the dozens of people who phone us each week and expect us to flip our cap on and tuck our camera under our arm and head out to their special little attraction, so the Progress will print in living black and white all what is happening in our community.

First of all let us personally invite each and every citizen to drop in at any time, to take a look around the Progress, so that everyone will see it is the Minden Progress and not the Toronto Daily Star.

We do not have a hundred typewriters, and a hundred reporters, we do not have fifty cameras, and fifty photographers, we do not have electronic tape type setting equipment, and we do not have presses which turn out eighty thousand impressions an hour.

All we have is one typewriter, one reporter, one photographer, one typesetter — this man happens to be the owner, with one pair of hands. Now we do our best, putting in some sixteen to eighteen hours a day, seven days a week — now with each phone call and picture we can add an extra hour to our day.

Now don't get us wrong, we don't mind the hours, for this is the newspaper business. But, it just might be of interest to everyone to know that pictures cost money, (approximately $8.00 per) and taking pictures cost us time, which in turn is money. Now one doesn't have to look at our paper too long to see that it couldn't stand the cost of all the pictures that could be taken in this community. Not only could it not stand the cost, but space is also limited.

Over the year and a half we have been here, people have forgotten that this is a business, not a public bulletin — where advertising comes in as news releases. People have lost track of the difference between publicity and advertising — this has been partly due to the generosity of this publisher, who has extended a helping hand, but unfortunately as everyone knows, one gives an inch and a mile is taken.

We have done our very best to give equal coverage to all news happenings, through articles and pictures — our paper has proven this. Minden can brag of the fact that for the size of the town, no paper in Ontario, or Canada for that matter, carries as many pictures as the Minden Progress. For most small weekly papers, they carry absolutely no pictures at all, because of cost and time.

We are quite happy here with the fact that only a year and a half ago, we had three hundred readers, and now have over fourteen hundred paid subscribers, with our circulation list growing each week.

Let us also remind you that we are commercial printers here at the Progress office, with the paper playing only a small part of our weeks work. If we depended entirely on the paper for our income, we wouldn't be here at all, let alone with a full coverage of pictures and articles.

Now we hope this has enlightened you on our working schedule in this office, we would be more than pleased to attend every function and take pictures till the film filled the office, but unfortunately there is not enough hours in the day, and our operation is not big enough at the present time. However, we are pleased to help with any function, at any time through the means of publicity in our paper — but we need your cooperation as well as your consideration.

We would like to mention however, that a picture of the new addition along with an article giving the names of contractor and architect, along with details of cost etc., a few weeks ago. Unfortunately we did miss the opening of the addition, and felt bad in doing so, but a person can only be in one place at a time. It is very unfortunate that we do not have more reporters on the staff, this however, will only come when Minden grows and advertising warrants a bigger paper.

Let me leave you with one last thought about this newspaper business — as Sir Roy Thompson of Fleet once said, "The only reason for carrying reading material at all, is to separate the advertising."

KIDS SEE SANTA AT ROTARY CHRISTMAS PARTY

On Monday evening, December 12, the Minden Rotary Club staged their annual Christmas party for the children of Rotarians, or children invited by Rotarians.

It was quite an exciting night for the kids, as they turned out some 40 in number. They were not disappointed for Santa Clause himself made his annual visit, just before the evening was over and handed out presents to everyone. Mr. Bob Harvey Jr. was master of ceremonies, doing his usual fine job of entertaining children and Rotarians alike.

CHRISTMAS FUND ON THE CLIMB

The Service Clubs Christmas Fund sponsored by the Service Clubs in Haliburton County has started to climb.

Chairman of this committee, Mr. Gordon McKay, announced today that so far the fund has one hundred and seven dollars in it. This amount however, he said was only the total raised in this district, this is not counting out-lying areas.

Although Mr. McKay was pleased with the donations this far, he said the committee has hopes of this amount growing considerably between now and Christmas.

The fund is for the Senior Citizens at the home, and is in the name of Mr. Jim Wade, superintendent of the home, in trust.

If you wish to contribute to this worthy cause, you will find the boxes in many of the places of business throughout the area.

SPECIAL EVENING PLANNED TOMORROW NIGHT AT HYLAND CREST HOME

Tomorrow evening, December 16th, a special evening of entertainment has been planned at Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home, here in Minden.

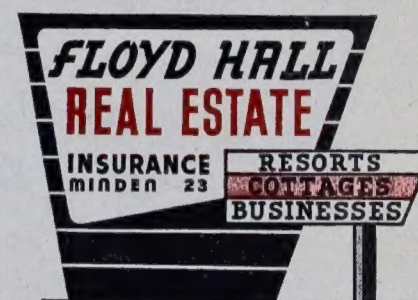

Mr. Robert Harvey Sr. who is in charge of entertainment at Hyland Crest said today that the Senior Citizens from Fenelon Falls would be on hand to stage a variety show, this group have performed in many centres and are quite professional.

Everyone is welcome to attend, and refreshments will be served.

Shortly after doing last week's column and wondering about the magazine that the "Virgin Territory" had appeared in, I decided to consult "The Oracle" The Oracle in this case being our genial and efficient Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Norm Craig.

I explained my problem; and Norm replied, "I can't just put my finger on the publishers of the Magazine but if you phone Bob Bishop Jr. the chances are good that he'll know."

Within one minute after telling my story to Bob he answered in true "Sir Sam's Inn" efficiency. "I know the magazine you mean — what issue do you want."

I told him any issue would do and I received the same monthly issue that carried the column I was interested in.

* * * *

This only goes to prove what I have always said. "To get along in this world you don't need to know nothin' all you need to know is know the people who do know, and get them to tell you."

* * * *

Problems — problems, we all have them, but I ran across one the other day that was rather unique.

Norm Harrison Sr. is well known for his skill with the mechanical horse and its affiliates. He is also well-known as a hunter and a great lover of animals.

The other day a customer left his car in Norm's yard with the instructions to make certain repairs. What Norm didn't know and apparently the owner didn't know either was the fact that under the car was the owner's dog.

Now, the dog had decided that no one, but, no one was going to touch his master's car. And they didn't either until Norm did a bit of telephoning and the dog's master came up and explained the situation to the watch dog. As Norm said, it was the doggondest problem he'd had for some time.

* * * *

That about finishes up another week. You may be pleased to know that I won't be "bugging" you again until after the New Year.

My "Centennial Year" project is to be a more lovable and friendly Finch — also to give some thought to writing more articles that will bring my fondest critic "Bonner" into the fold. His constructive criticism is appreciated.

So, for Christmas and New Year's and the year 1967 to follow, may you all have the best of everything. Let me leave you with this thought that was written by a Civil War Soldier over one hundred years ago.

I asked God for strength, that I might achieve — I was made weak that I might humbly learn to obey.

I asked for help that I might do greater things — I was given infirmity, that I might do things better.

I asked for riches, that I might be happy — I was given poverty, that I might be wise.

I asked for all things, that I might enjoy life — I was given life, that I might enjoy all things.

I got nothing I asked for — but everything I had hoped for.

Despite myself, my prayers were answered, I am, among all men, most richly blessed!

Until 1967 — best wishes from — Fenwick.

A CHANGE IN ONTARIO HOSPITAL SERVICES

Beginning in January 1967, a change in Ontario Hospital Services Commission Regulations will permit the husband or wife to pay the family hospital insurance premiums through a group. Up to this time, if both husband and wife were employed in insured groups, the Regulations required the husband to pay for the family as he is usually the one more continually employed.

The relaxing of this Regulation will provide a means of overcoming certain difficulties which previously arose for some residents. In some cases, a family was unable to obtain supplementary coverage for semi-private accommodation because the husband's employer did not deduct the additional premiums for Blue Cross or CUMBA, whereas the wife's employer would have done so. (Blue Cross and CUMBA semi-private coverage is sold by these insurers under special arrangement with the Commission as part of a package with Ontario Hospital Insurance.) Also in some instances, the family could not benefit from the fact that only the wife's employer paid part or all of the premium cost.

If the husband is employed in construction or some other industry where employees move frequently from one job to another, it is often more convenient if the wife can pay through her group, thus overcoming the need for the husband to transfer the insurance from one employer to another.

Although the new Regulation provides a means of overcoming inequities, whether or not a company shares in the cost of Ontario Hospital Insurance premiums for any or all of its employees is something outside the Commission's jurisdiction. The amended Regulation simply removes the obligation that the husband remit for the family through his group.

$1,000 DAMAGE

An estimated $1,000 damage resulted from a one-car accident involving Catherine Peebles of Nassau Street Oshawa.

Police said that the car she was operating skidded on ice on Highway 35 near Rosedale and struck a tree. No injuries were reported.

OPP Constable Albert Kea of Cobocok detachment investigated.

MINDEN LIBRARY

A REAL SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

Now one might think this story on the Minden Library does not come under the heading of a business, well it is a non-profitable one for sure — but it certainly generates quite a service to the community.

In 1898, two rooms upstairs over the bank, owned and operated by T. H. Delamere, was fitted as a Library and Reading room for the use of the town.

Later a room was fitted up on the main floor with a small coal oil heater to take the chill off the room. It is noted that though the meetings were called in the Library rooms, that the directors very often adjourned to a warmer place for their meetings, usually held in January or February.

The Library moved across the street in 1918 and over the Printing Office operated by R. H. Baker and later W. McArthur. One of the first Librarians was Miss Annie Gainer, other one through the years have been Mrs. McArthur, Miss Ada Gainer, Miss Porter and Miss Florence Rogers.

The Library was destroyed by fire in 1942 and was re-opened the same year when Mr. E. A. Rogers, county treasurer, and Secretary - treasurer of the Library board, offered his office as a Library Room and here Mrs. Moore became librarian.

The next move was to the building given by S. W. Welch and this was moved to a lot on Peck street given by Mrs. Annie Cox. This building was in turn, given to the Boy Scouts when purchase was made by the Library Board of the old bank of Commerce building, which it is presently occupying today.

The Minden Library is now a branch of the Haliburton County Library Service. The benefits of this service is the number of books which are made available at present there are some 2000 books on the shelves.

The Library has a complete children's section, with a great variety of fiction and non-fiction for the grown - ups.

This library of ours has the biggest circulation of books in the county, moving approximately 800 books a month.

The Library committee of management of three consists of chairman Robert Gornie, secretary-treasure, Mrs. Moore, and Clarence McInerney.

The present librarian is Mrs. Sears, who has a very capable assistant, former librarian, Mrs. Russell Lewis.

The Library building was taken over in 1965 by the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, and they are now responsible for all costs involved.

Pictured here is Minden's Librarian, Mrs. Sears, as she sits behind her desk. Mrs. Sears is more than willing to help in any way possible, in helping you make selection.

DRIVER RE-EXAMINATION PROMPTS COURSES

A new program, offered by the Ontario Motor League and co-sponsored by the Ontario Department of Transport and the Ontario Safety League has just been made available to motorists of this province.

Many of Ontario's 3,000,000 drivers learned to drive years ago when laws and traffic situations were much less complex than today and literally thousands have asked that official programs be organized to permit them to review and up-date their knowledge of rules and regulations in preparation for the announced provincial plan to re-examine all drivers beginning in 1967.

As a result, and following many months of planning by these three organizations, a course has been prepared which will fill this need which continues to increase day by day. A completely new course, based on Ontario's traffic laws adapted to Ontario's driving conditions is being offered the public by the Ontario Motor League in larger centres of population with planned extension of this service to other areas as time permits. Modern teaching aids will be utilized and will be supplied by the Department of Transport and the Ontario Motor League. To consist basically of 3 class-room sessions of two and a half hours each, the course will include such subjects as man made laws, human factors in driving, laws of nature, driving under adverse conditions, defensive driving and free-way driving.

Instructors will be well qualified, and will include high school teachers and Ontario Motor League officials who have taken teacher preparation courses in driving education, police officers and others, all of whom will receive additional special preparation for this task.

"Students" will be charged a fee of $10.00 for the course to cover all charges and a provincial certificate will be given those who complete the course.

Pilot courses which have already been conducted in different parts of the Province have had very gratifying results. Students varying in age from 18 to 78 have admitted learning many new points in driving and all are agreed that the course will make them better and safer drivers.

This Thing which is called safety on the roads, is worth every minute of everyone's time in taking such a course. We are certainly in favour of every angle in the book to keep one alive.

We can hear most people now, when they find out they have to be re-examined — what for? Will be the question. The only answer we can give is for them to read the papers each day and each week, and they will discover why everyone has to be re-examined — the accidents happening each day in Ontario are fantastic. These of course are caused by people, in most cases. Then one might ask why these accidents happen? Well we don't know how the Ontario Motor League would answer this, but I would sum it up, one of two ways — either people don't know the laws of the road and safe driving habits, or they don't bother to practise them. This is my opinion of why so many people today are either being killed or seriously injured.

Letters To The Editor

13th. December, 1966.

Dear Sir:

Has the lack of interest in Municipal Affairs, as referred to in your recent editorials of December 1st. and December 8th. 1966, spread to your paper?

I refer, of course, to the complete absence of coverage on the opening of the addition to the Archie Stouffer School here, in Minden. I will concede that there was an announcement on the front page of your December 1st. edition; however, the Opening itself did not receive one word or photograph in your December 8th. issue to commemorate this important event.

Surely you will agree that the Archie Stouffer Public School is the most modern public school in Haliburton County? Also, would you not agree that the occasion certainly merited some modest coverage and pictorial record, in addition to the short announcement referred to above.

On hand were our elected representatives from both the Federal and Provincial legislatures, an interesting guest speaker and Mr. Archie Stouffer himself, a person to whom this area owes a debt of gratitude for his part in education.

Would not your out-of-town readers also be interested in the "educational progress" being made here, in Minden? How many city schools can you name that boast of a gymnasium and modern Board Room all combined in one school?

In closing I might add, that if Municipal Councils and School Boards received more credit for their accomplishments through the medium of the press, there would be more interest shown in municipal affairs.

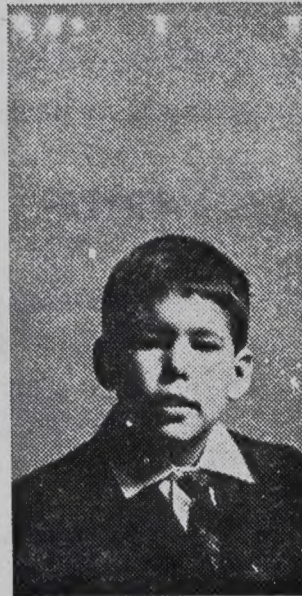

Yours very truly,

Donald J. Finn.

SPORTS WITH BOB BEENEY

An article released this week, that has power to kill. This is by A. E. Walroth, District Forester of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, caught my complete attention.

I have included it in my column for your reading.

'SO YOUR BOY WANTS A GUN'

Christmas is just around the corner and the boy in your family has been asking for a gun. Perhaps you feel he is not old enough, but you haven't given it much thought. Your decision must be based, not on the child's age alone, but more important, on his sense of responsibility. Does he display responsibility when left on his own, asked to run errands, or given duties to be performed regularly?

Youngsters grow up playing games that call for a bit of "shooting". Whether it's a toy gun or a piece of wood, roughly fashioned to look like one, doesn't matter. Imagination makes the gun. The young shooter gradually works up one "just like dad's". His concept of guns has gone from the world of make believe to reality. His sense of responsibility must keep pace if he is to be entrusted with a gun that has power to kill. This is your first and most important point to consider. After you decide to give him a gun, pick one that will be most suitable for him, preferably a single shot. It is simple in action and recommended for his first gun.

The next important consideration is instruction, and instruction must go beyond how to load the gun and pull the trigger. A youngster, receiving a gun for the first time, should be taught the common sense fundamentals of safe gun handling before being allowed to use it. Safety educators feel that boys, and girls, if given proper instruction, can be entrusted to handle firearms safely and correctly. Properly trained youngsters more often demonstrate a keener awareness of their responsibilities when handling firearms than is shown by many adults.

Gun clubs, sportsman's clubs, and some youth organizations give courses in gun handling. Depending on the available time, equipment and experience of the instructors, the pupil will receive lessons in the following:

(a) A thorough knowledge of

- weapons: names, parts, types.
 - (b) proper and safe gun handling in the field.
 - (c) shooting form in firing on the range or in the field.
 - (d) Responsibilities of the hunter, sportsmanship, game management.
 - (e) Good hunter, landowner relationships.
 - (f) Knowledge of game laws game identification.
 - (g) Hunting tips and techniques.
- The pupil is provided with a good, basic background in safe gun handling and, if he has learned his lessons well, will automatically apply safety techniques in gun handling, whether he is shooting in target practice or hunting game.

So, if your boy is a responsible type, go ahead and buy him a gun. And Dad, why not join him in gun instruction class? Perhaps your safety techniques could stand a bit of brushing up.

Accidents don't happen by themselves. A fatal mistake can make you a statistic. Handle your gun safely. The life you save may be your own.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Toronto 5, Ontario

Dear Sir:

I just received the December 8th edition of the Minden Progress.

Where was the article on the Official Opening of the addition to the Archie Stouffer Public School? I expected to see pictures and one of your fine write-ups. Minden doesn't have that many big occasions. How could you possibly ignore this one? Perhaps you didn't realize that there were members of Parliament present, Mr. Hodgson, MPP, and Mr. Scott MP, in addition to a man from the Department of Education, the speaker, Mr. Torrens, and the entire educational committee of the area.

People want to know where their tax dollar goes. You say this yourself if I remember rightly, you attacked the community for its lethargic interest in municipal affairs. Well, shame on you, you are as guilty as the rest of us!

Surely this faux pas is not a reflection of differences of opinion between you and the school board concerning the controversial kindergarten!

If it is, I am much disillusioned by the pettiness of news reporters in my home town. I hope I see a worthy article next week.

Sincerely

Miss Carolyn Coburn

Editor's Note

Since printing our front page editorial, we have just received the above letter to the editor.

May we first of all say, we are pleased to hear from our readers, and since next week is Christmas and a busy one for us, we will answer this letter now.

I think when you read our front page editorial you will understand our position. However in answering your question concerning a difference of opinion with the school board over a kindergarten — you are wrong. We are certainly in favour of a kindergarten, but have no differences with any board, or anybody when it comes to filling this paper each week. I think when you use the word "pettiness", you are quite a ways off the track in describing a new reporter, here in Minden or anywhere. We have a code of ethics to follow, and in my travels I have never seen such a writer.

Now let me offer you Carolyn a little advice, if you work as hard in your profession as I have in mine, you will be quite a success.

BOOK REVIEW

The Heart of Newfoundland, by Dorothy Henderson, published by Harvest House, Montreal, price $1.95.

Dorothy Henderson writes about Canada's 10th Province in an informal and easy to read manner. This authentic first hand impression of a part of Canada which as she says is "Canada's newest Province but Britain's oldest Colony" makes interesting reading. All too little is known by most Canadians of this Island on our east coast with its hospitable and friendly people. A people who have grown used to primitive living and hardships unknown to most north americans.

The first chapter begins with the ferry trip from North Sydney N.S. to Port-aux-Bosque Newfoundland, and continues across the Island by train. The Railroad is a narrow gauge line with modern equipment operated by the C.N.R. The narrow gauge with its tracks a little over a foot narrower than standard naturally requires smaller sized cars, coaches and locomotives but the feeling of being in a miniature train soon disappears after the journey begins.

A chapter is devoted to the Railroad and this with the stories of local interest and anecdotes along the way makes the 550 mile 26 hour journey from Port-aux-Basque on the west coast to St. Johns on the east seem all too short.

The stay in St. Johns with side trips covering modern as well as primitive conditions give the readers a clear picture of life as it really is.

The book is effectively illustrated with simple black and white wood cuts. If any fault could be found it would be the quality of the maps of Newfoundland which appear inside the front and back covers. These maps certainly fail to do justice to an Island which is so steeped in history, from the days of the Vikings, John Cobot, Marconi and up to the present day Joey Smallwood.

This is not a history book nor is it a travel book in the true sense, rather it is a holiday trip taken by real people and written in a way to make enjoyable and worth while reading.

This has been a Progress boog review, as a guide to our readers. The Minden Progress will from time to time attempt to review worthwhile books of current or local interest.

HI NEWS

with Dianne Earle

Tomorrow is E-Day. Are you ready? Whatever happened to September, October, and good ol' November sure happened fast. I mean, all those notes — where did they come from? This time next Thursday it'll be all over with — for a few months, anyway. And then we can get down to celebrating Christmas.

We did give it a good start last Friday night at the Holly Ball. The Reactions played excellently, and everyone of the approximate 100 in attendance enjoyed the Christmas dance. Now for the undecorating! Next dance is the Mid-Winter Night's Dream Formal, I guess.

It's been a few years since we at the highschool have had a school formal, so we've got to make this one really successful. Let's go! So far school spirit (familiar cliché?) at H.H.S.S. has really been plentiful this year.

The Students' Council has done an excellent job in promoting several new and different projects, and individual clubs in the school are generally well-organized and active too. We have to keep working at it though, if we hope to maintain this victory over apathy, so let's not slacken up after Christmas.

In fact, we might take the opportunity to start the new year off with a big bang in preparation for a roaringly successful Centennial year. When students wake up to the fact that school is more than classroom subjects and tedious hours of trying homework, they find their highschool lives much more fun. But, when school is placed in a category of its own, to be associated only with Work, who can blame students for watching the clock and running as fast and as far away from school as possible as soon as "opportunity" knocks??? So far this year, staying after school for various extra-curricular projects and clubs has been a pleasant and enjoyable proposition to students of H.H.S.S. because, in doing so, they are contributing to the school life into which they are forced to participate. And under such circumstances, few teenagers are able to find cause for reasonable complaint. If you're not happy with what you have, and you're not doing anything about it, you have only yourself to blame. But, if H.H.S.S. holds something for you, some unidentifiable quality that means fun, interest, participation, sentiment, spirit, and gratitude, then you can thank yourself, because it was you who created the feeling. He who creates activity revels in it, non?

RIFLE AND PISTOL CLUB PLAN FESTIVE TURKEY SHOOT

The Lindsay Rifle and Pistol club are sponsoring a turkey shoot on Saturday 17 of December in the Armouries. The indoor range will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and anyone wishing to shoot will be locked after by club members during this time. Cost will be 50c for five shots.

Skill is unnecessary, the target will represent a turkey and scoring will be achieved by placing a marked grid on the target after firing. Depending on the location of the shot holes, a score will be attained.

This method has the effect of making everyone equal and provides more fun for the participants. Prizes will be adjusted according to the number of persons who come out to shoot.

For safety reasons children under 16 must be accompanied by adult.

HALIBURTON - VICTORIA CANCER SOCIETY HOLD MEETING

A very successful get together was held by the Victoria and Haliburton Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society at the Bonfire Restaurant on Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 6:30 p.m.

The program was centred on the Committee's theme of "get-togetherness", a determination that all volunteers in the Cancer Society's work should get to know one another and thereby share individual enthusiasm for the work in Haliburton and Victoria.

Two films were shown. The first "The Woven Thread" illustrated by a very graphic travelogue how the Cancer Society through its volunteers extends like a thread across Canada from coast to coast in its determined effort to eliminate cancer, as also to bring hope and understanding to those afflicted.

The second film "The Million Club" subtly illustrated the hope for cancer victims. Six people who were total strangers were invited to dinner at a well-known New York Hotel by one unknown.

to any of the six guests. During dinner it developed that each of these people had suffered from cancer of one type or another and that all had been cured. The value of the film was the manner in which each guest explained how medical science had effected his or her individual care.

Those present included guests Lindsay, as well as Coboconk, Norland, Kirkfield, Glenarm and Bobcaygeon. Some Forty in all registered.

Regrets were received from Haliburton, Minden, Wilberforce, Gooderham and Fenelon Falls, as their inability to be present because of the very inclement weather.
